

WILL CONSULT ALL ELEMENTS TO GET THE NATION UNITED

Wants Advice on New Association of Nations

DECLINES OFFER OF PRESIDENT

MARION, O. Nov. 5.—President-elect Harding already has begun fulfillment of his campaign promise to consult the nation's leading minds with regard to a new association of nations, and he hopes that by the time of his inauguration next March he will have laid the ground work of a plan behind which the sentiment of the nation can unite.

A list not yet made public of those to be consulted first has been drawn up and invitations are going forward to several to come to Marion at the conclusion of the month's vacation trip, which is to be started by the president-elect tomorrow morning.

Both Republicans and Democrats are to present their views in individual and personal talks with Mr. Harding during the winter months, but he does not contemplate for the present, at least, any general assemblage of his advisers for round-table discussions.

It was said in an announcement from the president-elect's office tonight that "men and women who have been eminent in the discussion of our foreign relations" will be made during Mr. Harding's vacation trip, it was added, although no consideration will be given by him during that period to choice of a cabinet.

The announcement followed a long conference between Senator Harding and Will Hays.

The objective of the senator's vacation trip is Point Isabel, Texas, and although he plans to occupy most of his time there hunting and fishing, another of his close campaign advisers, Harry M. Daugherty will accompany him.

Declines Wilson's Offer

Today Mr. Harding declined an offer of President Wilson to provide him with a battleship for the voyage to the Panama Canal Zone which is to follow a twelve-day stay at Point Isabel. In response to a telegram from Secretary Daniels, conveying the president's proposal, the president-elect wired that he was thankful but already had closed agreement to make the trip on a passenger steamer.

It was said at Harding headquarters tonight that a hitch over the sailing schedule had been averted. Under the present plan the departure will be made from New Orleans to which point the senator and Mrs. Harding and their guests will go from Point Isabel by rail. The sailing date, however, has not been announced.

Promised Meeting of Minds

Officials close to the president-elect called attention to the fact that the "meeting of minds" would begin as soon as possible after his election and that he also frequently declared the purpose of his consultations would be, not to suggest any plan of his own, but to ascertain how divergent views might be brought into harmony as to put a united nation behind him in his negotiations with other powers.

He also has indicated in campaign that irreconcilable opponents of the league of Versailles, as well as his ardent supporters, would be numbered among those to whose advice he would listen.

SITUATION OF GEN. WRANGEL IS MOST GRAVE

Reported That He Has Asked
France for Aid

CONFLICT ON REPORT OF OPERATIONS

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Further dispatches confirming the extreme gravity of the position of General Wrangel, head of the anti-Bolshevik forces in South Russia have been received by the French foreign office but are being withheld temporarily. With the capture by the Bolsheviks of Perekop and the surrounding territory regarded as the key to the isthmus, fears are expressed in French official circles that General Wrangel's very existence in the Crimea may be seriously endangered. It is reliably reported that General Wrangel has sent an urgent appeal to France and the other allied powers requesting more aid. From an authoritative source it was learned today that France feels it is too late now to give him further assistance and that any further support would have to come from the other allied powers among whom, the French say, there seems to be no disposition to act.

There is some conflict in the reports on General Wrangel's operations. A Sebastopol dispatch of November 1 said he admitted the loss of Perekop to the Bolsheviks and dispatch from the same city November 2, in reporting the occupation of Perekop by the Bolsheviks, declared the town was a mass of ruins. Thursday's dispatches from Sebastopol, however, asserted General Wrangel was master of Perekop, giving the impression that he had recaptured the place.

RED CROSS SURVEY PLANS EXPLAINED

Miss Belden Made Address at Rotary Club Luncheon Friday

At the Rotary Club luncheon held Friday at the Pacific hotel Miss Evalina Belden gave an interesting explanation of the Red Cross survey work which is in progress. President Pontius introduced as guests of the club members Dr. Violet of Kansas City and Alvin Tague, who has recently become a Jacksonville resident.

The club attended to some business matters including the appointment of a committee to cooperate with others in providing transportation for women and children to Mauvasterre Lake on Armistice day. This committee includes Alderman John D. Cain, W. D. Doying and Henry Frisch.

Miss Belden in the somewhat brief time allotted to her, gave the Rotarians a very clear idea of the comprehensive plan that the Red Cross has worked out in this survey program. She mentioned the fact that last August representatives of sixty-five organizations were invited to a conference and many of them were represented when this conference decided upon the survey plan.

Experiences in other cities and states have shown the value of the survey work—this study that a community makes of itself in order to determine real needs and the best lines of civic and philanthropic effort. The survey work is being done by citizens thru the appointment of committees. There are health, educational recreation, family welfare, housing and delinquency committees.

Investigations will be made along these various lines which will not only bring to notice conditions of distress thru poverty, unemployment, illness, but also conditions that can be improved among people who are in no sense objects of charity. The work is carried on in such a way that no one can resent it, and the results come about thru a helpful spirit of co-operation.

Miss Belden referred to a number of instances in other cities where the residents at first thought that certain committees need not be appointed. They believed that they knew conditions and that there would be nothing helpful developed by the survey. Then she went on to tell some of the surprising facts which the survey in these cities revealed.

The speaker said that the character of the committees working here made it certain that the survey will be carried forward promptly to its conclusion, and with a thoroughness that will with certainty make it of great value.

BARNES APPEARED BEFORE MARKETING COMMITTEE FRIDAY

Read Formal State- ment on Phases of Grain Marketing

WHEAT ESCAPED FULL EFFECT OF DEFLATION

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Julius H. Barnes, former director-general of the United States grain corporation today appeared before the marketing committee of seven members of the American Farm Bureau federation offering opinions and suggestions on the subject of grain marketing and outlining major influences on price fluctuations on trading exchanges.

Mr. Barnes read a formal statement touching upon every phase of grain marketing after which he expressed a willingness to answer questions from members of the committee. In his statement Mr. Barnes said it was his firm conviction that the present system of grain marketing, thru open exchanges, by maintaining a highly competitive market at all times, worked to the advantage of both producer and consumer and future trading was beneficial in that it furnished insurance for traders against destructive losses on commitments, which would of necessity be taken in wider margins of profits without exchange hedging.

He urged the development of a better understanding of "the great exchanges and cooperation with in developing their full service and eliminating their defects and abuses" and commended the committee for its temper to "lay aside prejudice and previous conceptions to learn the truth about basic facts on which sound marketing must proceed."

Escaped Full Effect of Deflation

Touching upon recent declines in wheat prices, Mr. Barnes said the wheat producer had escaped the full effect of deflation because of the "cushion found in future trading. He cited figures tending to show that the decline in wheat from the peak post-war price to the current level has been only 18 percent as against a decline of 68 percent in potatoes for which there is no exchange market. Similar comparisons reveal declines of 55 percent in cotton, 47 percent in beans and 46 percent in barley, the statement said.

Indications that the deflation is worldwide in character and "not confined to American farm products alone, Mr. Barnes said, in answer to a question from a member of the committee as to whether it would be feasible for producers to market their own crops, Mr. Barnes said the present system maintained a lower trade toll between producer and consumer than would be possible in any system which eliminated hedging, and said that in his opinion any organization of farmers for price fixing "would not" be decreed just by the American public. The disorganization of European finances is to some degree responsible for the present light export demand and this in turn is due to the impossible atmosphere created for private business by the world political situation.

Mr. Barnes declared adding that he believed that had the United States contributed its efforts to the readjustment of the world affairs, long ago, American business would not be undergoing the strain which it is now experiencing.

Three Congressional Districts
Are Still Doubtful

REPUBLICANS GAIN FIFTY EIGHT MEMBERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Congressional elections in three districts tonight had not been definitely reported and with the uncertain trend that has taken place in the fourth and eighth districts of Tennessee the Republicans still have a chance of adding to their record majority in the new house.

Late returns today from Tennessee indicated that W. F. Clouse, Republican, was leading Representative Cordell Hull by less than 300 in the fourth district. In the eighth district, incomplete returns gave L. A. Scott, Republican, a small lead over Gordon Browning, Democrat.

In the districts that have definitely reported the Republicans have elected 293 and the Democrats 138 including the two Tennessee seats which tonight were placed in the doubtful column. The others elected include one Socialist, one Independent, one Prohibitionist and one Independent Republican.

GREETINGS FROM HARDING ARE SENT BY RADIO TELEPHONE

Are Repeated in Same Manner to Other Meetings

PROBLEM OF AMERICAN INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Greetings from President-Elect Harding received at a meeting here tonight of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers were sent by radio-telephone to similar gatherings in 31 other cities of the United States where engineers were celebrating the organization's fortieth anniversary.

The president-elect's message as well as one from Governor Coolidge, vice-president-elect, which was received also by radio telephone were read as a part of a commemorative program which included addresses by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and prominent engineers of the country. Congratulatory cablegrams were received from engineer organizations and officials of France and Great Britain and duly telegrams were presented including greetings from Herbert Hoover and Charles M. Schwab, American Industry's Problem.

One of the problems facing American industry is the checking of the tendency to have the machine replace the man, Samuel Gompers declared. The process already has been carried too far Mr. Gompers said for its manufacturing the man has become a human connecting link in the machine and mastered by it, instead of controlling the machine itself.

"The result," he said, "is that today men's work tends to be done more for them than by them. The task that lies before us is to develop a definite kind of working environment which will be attractive and which will inspire rather than repulse the workman."

"It is the deadly monotony of repetitive work that is at the root of most of our troubles and I therefore, in the name of the workers urge upon you engineers to direct your energies to the solution of the problem. Beware that the machines you create do not become a 'Frankenstein' and enslave the human race."

Gov. Allen's big vote in Kansas should reassure Samuel Gompers that the people are quite in favor of some court of tribunal plan for the settlement of strike difficulties. The pro-belle plan thru some type of court action these problems can be dealt with in a way fair both to the public and the workers.

Mayor Thompson was a powerful political figure in this state before the election. The result has added very materially to his strength as every candidate in whom he was interested was swept into power. Just at present any man who expects to "land" in Illinois politics must consult William Hale Thompson.

It remains to be seen just what the incoming state administration will do with the public utilities question. It was variously termed an issue in the campaign and "merely a vote getter." The public can present some good arguments for home rule and in a number of states, even where utility commissions function along certain lines, the limited home rule has been given by legislative action.

Some people used to say that under present election laws the tendency is to vote the straight ticket—that few people are certain of themselves when it comes to scratching a ballot. That opinion is not substantiated by the returns here in Morgan county, to say nothing of the New York state election, where Gov. Smith ran 1,200,000 votes ahead of the Democratic national ticket. More and more independence is shown by voters and there is an increasing number of both men and women who select the candidates they think the best qualified, regardless of their party alignment.

The political death knell of W. J. Bryan has been sounded many times by his adversaries. But somehow Mr. Bryan continues to live and move and have his being within the Democratic party, and his utterances are given notice. At the San Francisco convention he was so thoroughly routed that he was supposed to leave party councils. The result of the election must have convinced the men who controlled that convention that it would be better to have headed some of Mr. Bryan's advice. Now the "Peerless One" has gained the front page in all the leading newspapers of the country with his suggestion that President Wilson resign and let Mr. Harding get on the presidential job at once.

As long as Mr. Bryan retains his mental and physical vigor he bids fair to have something to say which the people will give at least respectful attention.

RETURNING TO NORMALCY

"The victory of Senator Harding and the banishment of Wilsonism from the nation's councils is another manifestation of the inherent good sense of the American people and a renewed proof of the stability of the government under which they live," declares the Republican Publicity Association in a statement issued by that organization.

"The republic has had a taste of autocracy such as few nations of the world have ever experienced. Gathering into his own hands all the executive power and much of the legislative, the people have seen their president throw aside his responsibility to them, and direct the affairs of government solely according to his own impetuous will, uttering defiance while to their duly chosen representatives in congress.

By their votes the people have said, 'Stop! The president must be the agent of our will, not his own!'

"The orgy of extravagance that has run rampant thru the years of Democratic control is another of the determining factors that precluded any doubt as to what the result of the election would be. Bidding their time when they could shut down the bars against father waste of their substance, the people have patiently looked on while the wanton profligacy of the Wilson administration has run riot. They have had their revenge, and administered a rebuke."

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

After Election.

All finished now the long campaign; the voters made their meaning plain, we know just where we're at; but little comfort do I see, for Johnson made a bet with me, and stuck me for a hat. The weary conflict now is done; a statesman lost, a statesman won, and may the loser smile, but all my soul is sick and sore—that Johnson boy who lives next door has touched me for a tile. And I must wheel him thru the town upon a barrow upside down, while the loafers leer; oh, other men may shout and jest, but there is sorrow in my breast, and on my cheek a tear. And others march in gay parade, and drink denatured lemonade and make the welkin thrill; but tragedy is in my soul, for with a toothpick I must roll a peanut up the hill. I see glad faces in the street, and happy citizens I meet, without a care or fret; I sadly view the merry throng, for I must wear my whiskers long, to pay a foolish bet. The noisy band is playing tunes to entertain the gassoons, but music makes me sad; this evening I must backward walk, my eyes blind-folded, round a block, to pay a wager had. They say our bulwarks are secure, and there'll be justice for the poor, and wrongs will be redressed; but I am full of grief and dole, and all my hopes are in the hole, so wretchedly I guessed.

LARGE AUDIENCES
GREET DR. VIOLETTE

Many Present From Adjacent Towns—Old Friends Take Great Pride in Evangelist's Success.

The Central Christian Church is the scene of a great awakening in Jacksonville and community. From the country side for miles in every direction, throngs of people are attending nightly to hear the preaching of Dr. E. E. Violette. Last night the auditorium was packed to capacity, chairs were put in place, and people were crowded into the annex. It was by far the largest week night audience of the meeting. Delegations were present from Winchester, Lynnville, Concord, Waverly, Woodson, Riggston and other towns, and individuals and families were in attendance from a radius of some twenty miles in the country.

Dr. Violette read from memory the third chapter of Matthew and the second chapter of Luke, and these were the foundation scriptures for his sermon on "Personal Experiences in Palestine." It was a message calculated to make the people think for many months to come; and his beautiful story of the Holy Land will linger long in the memory of even the little children who listened as if enraptured by the moving word-pictures of Bible characters. Faith, in the preaching of Dr. Violette, is a deep and fundamental thing, and the shallow thinkers who are tossed about by every new fad and sham, would find little comfort in their sectarian credulity by hearing him in burning words, put the greatness of God against the littleness of man.

The old school friends who knew Dr. Violette as "Curly" and "Enoch" and "Ebal" in the farmer boy days of long ago, are the ones who are most deeply moved by his preaching. After twenty years of world-wide travel and study, he comes back to his home country having made a name for himself in the world, and holding a reputation as one of the foremost preachers of his generation.

Tonight Dr. Violette goes to Riggston to preach one sermon in the old Methodist church where he attended Sunday school in his boyhood days and where he received his first inclination to live a religious life. In Riggston he preached the second sermon of his ministry, and last night he announced that he was looking forward to Riggston visit as one of the happiest experiences of his return to the home country.

Tonight is rest night in the meetings here but many are going from Jacksonville to the Riggston meeting. Dr. Violette will preach here at 10:45 Sunday morning and again at seven-thirty Sunday night. "Behold, a Sower Went Forth to Sow," will be his morning theme. At night he will deliver a sermon on John 3:16 "God's Gift of Love," as he announced it last night.

Prof. Pollock sang a pleasing solo last night, and Mrs. Gertrude Demoreth of Winchester also rendered a beautiful song. Dr. Ponting, the minister, returned from his eastern trip Thursday night and was in the meeting last night. He predicts a great day Sunday.

FERTILE BRAINS AND FERTILE FIELDS.

By B. E. POWELL.

"They said to the farmer, 'Produce, man produce.'"

Then they whispered to prices, "It's time to reduce,"

"Here's the grain—with the prices we'll play fast and loose And the farmer can take them—or go to the deuce."

We grant that middlemen are a necessity to civilization. But take a calm look at the middleman's job and then decide whether it is healthy for a civilization to support two middlemen in the style to which they have become accustomed, where a few years ago only one was found.

The middleman's business is to buy cheaply as he can and to sell as readily, isn't it? He isn't interested in how much it costs to produce he is interested in how little it costs to get. That is the more he can accustom the farmer to be satisfied with little the more successful he is. On the other hand the more he can accustom the customer to be willing to pay high the more successful he is. His profit is represented by the gap between producer and consumer. That is one reason we are living in such a queer world just now. Sam

Workhard in South Dakota didn't take the hides off the cattle he lost in the big blizzard last winter because he could get only a few cents for an animal's hide; yet when Sam wants a pair of shoes he pays ten dollars or more for them. Dave Howard in Ohio is storing his wool because there is no fair market for it yet when his wife wants a woolen suit she must pay about eighty-seven dollars for it. And J. F. Warner, chairman of the wool committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation is quoted as saying "Seventy five per cent of the wool cloth is shoddy"—that is old woolen rags—"remade even unto the tenth generation. That's why clothes do not wear any more. The manufacturer puts only a little virgin wool. The rest is shoddy with a little dog's hair to hold it together until he can get it sold."

It all looks as if somebody needed to do something. It is an absurdity that there should be a market for woolen rags and none for virgin wool.

Of course in the case of certain luxuries and manufactured articles whose prices had gone too dancing over the heads of the crowd it was all very well to force reduction. But reduction for reduction's sake is a dangerous game, for dangerous for any nation to allow played. At present the price of grain is actually below the cost of production. The statement has appeared widely in our state papers that it costs $2.77 to produce a bushel of wheat. This is not far from fact. The United States Department of Agriculture in 1919 studies fourteen representative districts in six states, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Minnesota and found that the cost of production for both spring wheat and winter wheat was $2.15 per bushel and $25.10 per acre. Do you suppose farmers are going to raise wheat for their health many years? They are not, for it is not a case of over-production which must endure a loss until supply again does not exceed demand. We are living in a hungry world that wants wheat. Right now Mr. Hoover says that thirty per cent of the people in the world are under bread ration. Let the farmers produce all they can for several years and all the empty stomachs in the world will not be glutted. Therefore, should not the farmer be free to produce in peace sure of a reasonable profit upon his capital and labor?

If he doesn't get this profit it will undoubtedly lead to changes in our system of distribution. This is what happened in Denmark. In the later years of the nineteenth century butter in Denmark became cheap enough to use for axle grease. The Danes thereupon organized cooperative creameries, these in turn organized into export societies until in 1908 Denmark had 1,101 cooperative creameries and six export societies and the price of butter in London was fixed in Denmark where was shorn a million pounds a week for the bread of the Londoners.

Right now it is undoubtedly a case of middlemenitis in the corn belt. And price manipulation may be carried too far for the safety of price manipulators. The producer must have a square deal or he'll go out and get it for himself. His land is good and he is going to make good.

BACK FROM MEETINGS.

Mrs. J. W. Moon and Mrs. Charles Redding have returned from the district woman's foreign missionary meeting at Durbin and give a glowing account of the exercises which were helpful and uplifting in every way. At the sacrament seven ministers participated and the occasion was one of deep interest and solemnity.

Food Disagreed Forming Gas Which Burned and Bled—Bowels Constricted and Liver Sluggish Claims the Root and Herb Remedy Drego, Gave Prompt Relief.

"I have suffered dreadfully with chronic gastritis and a torpid liver. I would swell up and gask for breath, especially at night. Was constipated and had to get up every little while during the night to relieve my kidneys. This condition made me terribly nervous and I couldn't take an interest in anything," said Mr. Guy Miller, who lives at 936 East Broadway, Centraia, Ill. "Catastrophic and dull headaches have bothered me for the past six years. These spells lasted from four to six weeks and came on about four times a year, making me positively miserable. My back was so sore and stiff I couldn't bend and my limbs ached so I couldn't sleep.

"Since I have been taking Drego I never have to get up during the night and am glad when bed time comes for I know it means a night of restful, soothing sleep. I am feeling fine and I tell you it's a grand and glorious feeling. Drego brought me health and happiness."

Drego, the medicine that is creating such a favorable impression throughout this section, is made from the juices and extracts of many roots, herbs, barks and leaves. It does not contain any iron, mercury, potash, nor other minerals. Drego acts on the stomach, bowels, bladder, kidneys, liver and the blood and wipes out constipation, indigestion, gastritis, sick headaches, biliousness, rheumatism, catarrh, nervousness and pains in the back and limbs.

All druggists now sell Drego and it is being especially introduced in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co.—Adv.

To solve the Movie Puzzle, all you are required to do is to rearrange the letters, so that they will spell the correct actors or actresses' names. No. 10 is Charlie Chaplin. If you can guess all ten you can win FORD Sedan or $800. Probably you know the names of most of the famous players, but just to refresh your memory, we mention below the names of a few of the most popular "movie" players:

Charlie Chaplin, Charles Ray, Mary Pickford, Thomas Meighan, Dustin Farnum, Theda Bara, Douglas Fairbanks, Blanche Sweet, Mabel Normand, Pauline Frederick, Pearl White, Fatty Arbuckle, Wallace Reid, Dorothy Gish, William Farnum, Alice Brady, G. B. Swanson.

BREEDING STOCK OF ILLINOIS FARMS.

A survey of livestock conditions carried on by the County Farm Bureau and the Illinois Agricultural Association, reveals the fact that more than half of the sires used are grades or scrubs. On the 28,796 farms surveyed in 32 counties, there are 4,897 registered bulls and 7,179 grade bulls. There are 4,574 pure bred sires as compared with 3,334 grades. In the case of sheep there are twice as many grade rams as pure bred.

The use of more and better pure bred livestock as a means to improve the grade of market stock is being encouraged by the Association. The Livestock Marketing department states there never was a better time for farmers to take advantage of prevailing prices to build up better and more profitable herds, flocks, and studs by the purchase of pure bred sires. Information regarding the purchase of any breed of stock can be had by writing the Association. Farmers in all parts of the state listed their stock for sale with the Association which will act as a medium of distribution for the whole state. Advice and information is given to new breeders and assistance will be given the purchaser in finding what he wants.

One Thousand New I. A. A. Members This Week.
The past week 1,076 farmers joined the Farm Bureau and the Illinois Agricultural Association making a total of 103,343 members in the state. Tazewell county now has 1,511 new members, Clinton county added 896; Livingston, 338; and Jo Daviess county has added 544 members since October 18.

Livestock Shipping Association Are Organized.
A questionnaire has been sent out by the Livestock Marketing Department of the Illinois Agricultural Association to the 290 farmers' co-operative livestock shipping associations in the state asking for information regarding their volume of business, growth of government and features of management. Information is wanted which will lead to a greater uniformity of organization than they now have. Two counties, Ford and Jersey, are planning new shipping associations, as are several others.

Fruit and Vegetable Canning Conference.
The fruit and vegetable canning conference called by the American Farm Bureau Federation at Columbus, Ohio, last week asked J. R. Howard, president to appoint a committee of one man from each state having canning crops to outline organization for canning commodities in co-operation with the Farm Bureaus to study the cost of production and get uniform contracts with canning companies.

Holstein Breeders Membership Campaign.
The Illinois Holstein Friesian Association will hold a series of 32 meetings in the state to discuss their problems and build up the organization. The Association has offices with the I. A. A. which will co-operate in the membership campaign. The Illinois Agricultural Association is offering this same co-operation to all other breed associations.

Buenos Aires.—(By the A. P.)
—With the arrival of the new Mexican Minister to Argentina, Jesus Ureta, announcement has been made to the newspapers of the establishment of a commercial agency of the Mexican government in Buenos Aires for the purpose of acquainting Argentine importers with Mexican products and stimulating trade between the two countries. Although welcoming this enterprise, La Razon points out that neither Argentina nor Mexico have a merchant marine and that an interchange in trade between the two countries will have to be carried in British or American ships.

RED CROSS SURVEY ROUNDING TO FORM

High School and Rount College
Students Enroll for Work—Success of Work Depends on Citizens Interest.

The general survey work under the auspices of the Red Cross is rapidly rounding into concrete form under the direction of Miss Belding who is here from headquarters to direct the movement. On phase of the organization is the enrollment of seventy-five students of the High school for the purpose of gathering information on the general characteristics of the city and county. The services of these pupils were offered by the superintendent of schools, Mr. Perin and Miss Calky instructor.

The co-operation of Rount College is also assured. Father Formaz stating that as many pupils as are necessary will be furnished. Each student will be given a definite section of the survey to report, to a member of the committee who will act as consultant and advisor. The subjects to be considered range over the entire list of the activities of the people at the present time, and when completed will be of great value as to the history, the elements of population, topography, government, finances, morals, plans for the future, all phases of industrial life, organization of different kinds. In short the mirror will be held up to the city and county, and the citizens will be asked to be judges of their own condition, with facts and figures at hand to enable them to work such improvement as they may consider necessary.

The general characteristic committee consists of the following: Hugh Green, chairman. H. C. Clement. Morrison Worthington. George B. Kendall. H. H. Bancroft. Jewell E. Scott. T. M. Tomlinson. Henry English. Miss Ruth Carlson.

The success of this movement will be measured in the exact ratio, as the peoples interest therein manifests itself. The claim has never been made that we are living in a perfect community, and conscious as we are of failings let us with courage and a desire to find our defects lend our support to this organized effort to reveal the good as well as the bad environment in which we are existing and which we fondly call our home. There can be no more meritorious work on the part of the individual citizen than to labor for the upbuilding of his community, and this survey gives an opportunity to all of us to so serve, either by becoming or cheerfully giving such information as is necessary to make the survey a complete success.

WAVERLY HERE FOR GAME THIS AFTERNOON

Will Battle Jacksonville High on Illinois Field—Game Promises to Be Hard Fought.

Waverly high comes to Jacksonville this afternoon for a game with Jacksonville high. Both teams have been working hard for the struggle which promises to be a bitter one.

Last year Waverly defeated Jacksonville at Waverly by a score of 10 to 0. The team has practically the same men that played in that game. On the other hand Coach Mitchell's squad has lost many of the veterans of last year and the team is made up mainly of youngsters.

However, these youngsters have been giving a good account of themselves and will play harder against Waverly than almost any other team because of the keen rivalry between the schools. Waverly lost to Pittsfield high at Pittsfield two weeks ago in the mud and rain. However, Waverly was unable to play her strongest game on that occasion which is a forward passing one. If the day is good it is probable that Waverly will use an overhead attack against the locals as that was what was used to beat Springfield several weeks ago.

So far few teams have made much headway against Jacksonville with the forward pass. However Waverly is said to have the play perfected better than most high school teams. It is probable that Coach Mitchell has been drilling his team to stop Waverly's overhead game. If they can stop it the contest promises to be close and exciting with victory likely to go either way.

During the past week Coach Mitchell has shaken up the team. Hunt has been taken from half and placed at guard. Hunt is a husky lad and this should strengthen the forward wall considerably. The Jacksonville team will line-up as follows:

H. Cockin, lg; E. Arnold, lt; Hunt, lg; Hackett, Reid, center; G. Cockin, rg; E. Bray, rt; Gardner; Alexander, Mitchell, quarter; Suruck, lb; Arter, rh; Hopper, th.

Play will be called at 2:30 o'clock with John Larson as referee. With good weather prevailing there should be the largest crowd of the season out for the game this afternoon.

The success of this movement will be measured in the exact ratio, as the peoples interest therein manifests itself. The claim has never been made that we are living in a perfect community, and conscious as we are of failings let us with courage and a desire to find our defects lend our support to this organized effort to reveal the good as well as the bad environment in which we are existing and which we fondly call our home. There can be no more meritorious work on the part of the individual citizen than to labor for the upbuilding of his community, and this survey gives an opportunity to all of us to so serve, either by being actively engaged in the movement or cheerfully giving such information as is necessary to make the survey a complete success.

WAVERLY HERE FOR GAME THIS AFTERNOON

Will Battle Jacksonville High on Illinois Field—Game Promises to Be Hard Fought.

Waverly high comes to Jacksonville this afternoon for a game with Jacksonville high. Both teams have been working hard for the struggle which promises to be a bitter one.

Last year Waverly defeated Jacksonville at Waverly by a score of 10 to 0. The team has practically the same men that played in that game. On the other hand Coach Mitchell's squad has lost many of the veterans of last year and the team is made up mainly of youngsters.

However, these youngsters have been giving a good account of themselves and will play hard against Waverly than almost any other team because of the keen rivalry between the schools.

Waverly lost to Pittsfield high at Pittsfield two weeks ago in the mud and rain. However, Waverly was unable to play her strongest game on that occasion which is a forward passing one. If the day is good it is probable that Waverly will use an overhead attack against the locals as that was what was used to beat Springfield several weeks ago.

So far few teams have made much headway against Jacksonville with the forward pass. However Waverly is said to have the play perfected better than most high school teams. It is probable that Coach Mitchell has been drilling his team to stop Waverly's overhead game. If they can stop it the contest promises to be close and exciting with victory likely to go either way.

During the past week Coach Mitchell has shaken up the team. Hunt has been taken from half and placed at guard. Hunt is a husky lad and this should strengthen the forward wall considerably. The Jacksonville team will line up as follows:

H. Cockin, lg; E. Arnold, lt; Hunt, lg; Hackett, Reid, center; G. Cockin, rg; E. Bray, rt; Gard, re; Alexander, Mitchell, quarter; Struck, lb; Arter, rh; Hopper, fb.

Play will be called at 2:30 o'clock with John Larson as referee. With good weather prevailing there should be the largest crowd of the season out for the game this afternoon.
